

Corporate America wants to hire YOU!

Make it easy with these tips!

The veteran demographic is more employed than their civilian/non-veteran counterparts

Veteran talent is in high demand

Companies are motivated to meet with and hire transitioning personnel and veterans

Now is the time for the military community to explore a wide variety of opportunities

Get out of that job, and into a career

TOP REASONS
A MILITARY JOB SEEKER WILL MISS AN OPPORTUNITY

- 1 | Being too passive
Not networking/attending hiring events, not remaining vigilant and active on job boards, or simply applying with no follow-up
- 2 | Not applying online
- 3 | Not doing your due diligence
Not knowing and understanding the organization you want to work for
- 4 | Bad first impression with attire
Attending a career fair in jeans and a t-shirt, or similar unprofessional attire
- 5 | Poorly formatted resume
- 6 | Inability to articulate value or translate experience to what a company needs

★ // Top solutions to overcoming career search hurdles // ★

- ✓ Attend hiring events/career fairs
- ✓ Dress to impress Treat the career search like a promotion board
- ✓ Stay active on job boards If you are active, you will populate higher in employer search results
- ✓ Possess and deploy a properly formatted resume Visit recruitmilitary.com/resources for resume guidance
- ✓ Do your homework Research companies and their open positions.
- ✓ Develop and fine-tune your 30-second elevator pitch High-level overview of who you are and the value you represent.
- ✓ Apply online This is a must. It's how you place yourself in an employer's Applicant Tracking System (ATS)
- ✓ Ensure you follow up LinkedIn is a great tool to stay connected with recruiters

// BY THE NUMBERS //

RecruitMilitary has been helping the military community connect with Corporate America for 20 years

RecruitMilitary has held over 1,000 hiring events since 2006

Since 2006, RecruitMilitary has connected more than 650,000 military men and women with over 43,000 exhibitors at hiring events

RecruitMilitary holds 120+ physical hiring events across the country every year

250,000+ active career opportunities posted to RecruitMilitary job board at any time

RecruitMilitary is home to over 1.3 million military men and women